

Kim Young-Hun

金永憲

Kim Young-Hun (b. 1964) was born in Nonsan, Korea. He is currently based in New York City and Seoul. Kim received his B.F.A. in painting from Hongik University. Continuing his studies, he soon enrolled at Chelsea College of Art and Design, and Goldsmiths College in London, and holds two M.F.A.s. Living through the transition between the analog generation and digital generation, Kim Young-Hun is passionate in observing and deciphering the unknown between the 1 and 0 of binary codes. Kim's works demonstrate a traditional Korean painting technique called Hyukpil (革筆畫), in which the painter mixes various colors and paints with rapid strokes using a leather brush. The multi-colored stripes that seem to flow like ink are made by one continuous brush stroke across the canvas, with the oil colors melting together and permeating into the canvas. Kim has exhibited extensively internationally with over 10 solo and 60 group exhibitions. His paintings are in several prestigious public and corporate collections, including Bank of America, and The Arts Club, and in numerous museums.

金永憲於1964年生於南韓論山市，現居於紐約和首爾。他在1992年於南韓弘益大學藝術系畢業，其後分別於切爾西藝術學院和倫敦金匠學院得到藝術碩士學位。金氏見證科技上從類比到數位的發展，他開始觀察 0 與 1 之間的未知空間，並在解構中得到啟發。在多年的創作中，金氏一直嘗試以傳統的韓國繪畫技法「革筆畫」展現電子信號的多樣性。藝術家用皮革筆刷快速繪畫，以連貫的筆觸在畫布上繪出猶如墨水般流動的多色條紋，令油彩融合並滲透到畫布中。金氏曾參加超過10個個人展覽及60個聯展，他的畫作被不同著名人士及企業收藏，包括紐約的美國銀行、倫敦的 The Arts Club 和多個國際博物館。
